THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT FOR CONSTIPATION

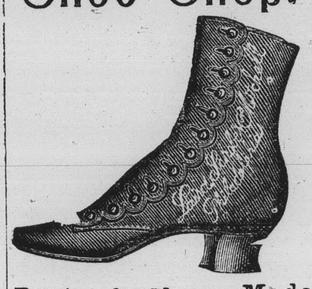

Constipation is nothing more than a clogging of the bowels and nothing less than vital stagnation or death if not relieved. If every constipated sufferer could realize that he is allowing poisonous filth to remain in his system, he would soon get relief. Constipation invites all kind of contagion. Headaches, biliousness, colds and many other ailments disappear when constipated bowels are relieved. Thedford's Black-Draught thoroughly cleans out the bowels in an easy and natural manner without the purging of calomel or other violent catharties.

Be sure that you get the original Thedford's Black-Draught, made by The Chattanooga Medicine Co. Sold by all druggists in 25 cent and $1.00 packages.

Morgan, Ark., May 25, 1901.
I cannot recommend Thedford's Black-Draught too highly. I keep it in my house all the time and have used it for the last ten years. I never gave my children any other laxative. I think I could never be able to work without it on account of being troubled with constipation. Your medicine is all that keeps me up.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N.Y.
The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation.

RUSTY PETE'S PASSING

By CURRAN R. GREENLEY

Copyright, 1902, by McClure's Newspaper Syndicate

Through the long hot summer Miguel's tepee had stood in the little grove of stunted mesquite a few hundred yards from the gate of the corral. It had been a long drought, and the cattle grew thin on the brown wisps that should have been tender grass.

John faced the situation as best he could, but he growled and grumbled through the scorching days and tossed in restless sleep through the sultry, endless nights. Rusty Pete swore louder and drank deeper, while Miguel prayed to his "Lady of Guadaloupe" to send the cooling rains, making sundry promises the while that were writ in water.

Bright Eyes, lazy and shiftless as ever, lounged in the open door of the tepee, while the papoose, now past the swaddling blanket, tumbled around her feet like an overgrown kitten.

Down in the corral there was the rattle of the dice. John made it a point never to interfere with the men so long as their games were orderly, and there were many idle hands on the Aloho just then.

Pete lounged in a corner of the men's quarters by himself. The battered old face had grown more sphinxlike than ever. Grim, silent, as if weighed down by some tragic secret, he kept to himself, and the boldest among the Aloho outfit did not care to question Rusty Pete.

There were many traditions of him—the ride through the night to save the neck of Miguel, when it became a question of his own life before the dawn; the strike at Jose's, where he had made the stand and driven the drink maddened crew into the corral and there held them until the fumes of bad whisky and pulque had passed. Herein came a part of the mystery. When Jose had endeavored to thank him, Pete had floored the whole crowd by giving Jose a talk on the folly of keeping barrels of whisky in easy reach of such devils as the compound of Indian and greaser that made up the personnel of Jose's ranch. And the most startling feature was that in his excitement the vernacular of the border slipped aside and he spoke in the cultured tones that betrayed the college bred son of the east. He had never forgotten his mask since.

Pete rose and turned toward the south, his lean body at "attention," like a statue, a full minute, his eyes fixed upon the southern horizon. "Fire! Fire! Fire!" The shrill cry brought the mass of men swarming from the corral, and the air was full of exclamation and question. Pete stood still, one bony hand pointing toward the horizon, where a misty blue haze was seething up. John, roused from his siesta, came sleepily lounging across the patio. One look, and he yelled to the men: "Get to the plows! Every man to his pony, and God help us to fight it!"

Inside the corral the ponies were tethered. As one man the eyes of the whole outfit turned toward them, the purpose of flight written on their faces. Then Pete sprang forward.

"Men of the Aloho, there's no use in playing the coward. You can't get away, and if you could you would have to leave the women. If we can't save 'em, we can die with 'em. The first man that turns his pony to the north won't need no pony."

This dictum was delivered without the quiver of a muscle in his quiet, even voice, and the men knew Pete.

Round and round, in a widening circle, they drove the ponies lashed to the plows any fashion—cow pony, buster, thoroughbred, all strained and tugged alike as the plows turned the hard baked soil, and the blue line, that was now a fiery serpent curling its length over the crest of the mesa, approached even nearer.

The smoke grew stifling. The whole world was ablaze, long fingers of fire that crept out and pointed the way for the vanguard to follow, closer and closer, until the murmur grew to a savage roar, and the ponies screamed and fought away from the plows and the blinded men that still forced them on.

Closer still. The long file broke, and the ponies galloped into the corral, there to huddle in a frightened bunch. The plows were left where they fell, and the men staggered toward the house. Then a shout went up, and they stood still peering through the smoke. The door of Miguel's tepee was thrown open, and Bright Eyes, with the papoose clinging to her skirts, stood in the doorway. The woman must have slept through all the din and only awakened to her danger when too late. For a moment there was an awful silence, broken only by the roaring of the fire that was hardly ten yards away from the tepee, which stood just without the plowed line.

Then a long tongue of fire shot out toward the canvas wall and licked greedily up to the roof pole. With a savage yell Miguel sprang across the open, Rusty Pete at his heels. Over the plowed ground the men sped. Miguel had reached Bright Eyes and was struggling back, when Pete yelled, "Where's the kid?" Too late. The fire had wrapped the canvas walls in a sheet of flame, and the little brown baby was nowhere to be seen. Then, before the eyes of those who would have held him back, Rusty Pete plunged through that blazing doorway.

It was all over in a minute. A dozen men had reached him when, blind and staggering, the papoose under his arm, Rusty Pete fell in the new made furrows.

Overhead the clouds had formed unnoticed in the human vortex that surged below, and as the wall of flame reared its crest as if to leap across the stretch of plowed land the very heavens opened up. Down came the blessed rain in sheets, and the thirsty, fire cursed earth laughed in very joy.

All over. But in a darkened room Rusty Pete lay dying. He was suffering greatly, but toward the last became conscious and, beckoning to John, whispered something. John turned to the boys that lined the room, the dark faces heavy with grief. "Boys, he says 'Goodby,' and don't forget Pete. He wants to be alone with me."

They filed out slowly, with many a backward look. Outside Miguel sobbed and cursed in a breath at the stolid Bright Eyes, whose carelessness had brought Pete to his death.

Rusty Pete lay still a little time gathering strength for the effort; then he reached out his hand. "Alleyne," John started. The tone belonged to the man he had not known. "You have been very patient with me, and as the tide of a useless life goes out we are man and man. There is no excuse for the past, and I will not burden you with my history, but when I am under the ground mail the picture to the address that you will find at the head of the letters. Those you can bury with me." John took the little package from Pete's breast, and Pete went on: "There is nothing else. But will you write a short letter and tell her how I died—not," with a bitter attempt at a smile, "how I have lived?" After that he was still for a long time. The gray dawn lay over the fire scarred mesa like a kindly pall, and as one long, rosy arm shot across the sky Pete sprang from the bed. "Harvard! Harvard! Rah, rah, rah! The crimson wins!" He fell back on the pillow. The shadows came down on the great dark eyes, and Rusty Pete had "passed."

"These."

In his book, "Bar, Stage and Platform," Mr. Herman C. Merivale, whose father was permanent undersecretary for the colonies and one of whose uncles was a rival of Niebuhr in scholarship, tells of an amusing experience of another uncle of whom the world has heard little.

This Mr. Merivale was a thoroughgoing cockney. London was as the breath of his nostrils. Notwithstanding he purchased a country place, intending personally to supervise the crops. To this end he asked advice of a bucolic friend, a man of many acres, who complied and began with the kitchen garden.

"Now, look at these," said he. "You have a fine crop of these. First you must do so and so in July, then such and such things in September, and next year there will be something to remember."

"Quite so," assented Mr. Merivale politely. "But I must begin at the beginning. In the first place, what are 'these?'"

"Do you mean to say you don't know?" gasped the country gentleman.

"Haven't the faintest idea," said Mr. Merivale cheerfully.

"These are—potatoes!" his friend replied, divided between amusement and amazement.

Two Texts.

Two stories are told in Harper's Magazine of ministers' stumbling on texts of a humorous personal application.

One was a very young minister, having charge of his first church and preaching a series of sermons on the life and utterances of St. Paul. The last one of these was given just before taking his leave, and during his absence he expected to take unto himself a wife, his engagement having been announced. After turning over the leaves of the Bible thoughtfully he said, "I invite your attention this evening to these words of the great apostle, 'I am ready now to be offered up.'"

The other minister was a widower who had remarried within a year after his first wife's death. His friends and congregation thought him very expeditious, and on the next Sunday, when his text was announced, they could scarcely control themselves. He rose in his place in his pulpit and said, "My beloved brethren, you will find my text in the seventeenth verse of the fourth chapter of Second Corinthians, 'Our light affliction, which is for the moment.'"

A woman worn-out, who never has to lift a hand for herself, who does not know the meaning of the word "worry"! How can it be possible? That it is possible is proved by the experience of many a woman who, because of sleeplessness, nervousness, backache and other womanly ills, becomes an utter physical wreck.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives new life and new strength to weak, worn-out, run-down women. It establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I suffered for five years with inflammation which caused violent pain and often torture so bad at times that I could not be about to attend to my daily duties," writes Mrs. Julius C. Bell, of Bath, Kingston, Ont. "Life was simply misery to me and I did not know which way to turn for relief. Had tried doctors but found they did not help me. My druggist advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—eulogizing it in glowing terms. I decided to give it a trial and brought a bottle home. I am happy to say that after the use of the first bottle I felt so much improved I decided to take another and after that a third bottle. I have good reasons to be pleased, for I am to-day a well woman, work is easy and the world looks bright. I have perfect health, thanks to your medicine."

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

Raw Eggs.

When raw eggs are ordered for an invalid to whom they are objectionable, make as palatable as possible by having the egg as cold as one can make it and then serve it from a cold glass as soon as it is opened. Of course it is useless to serve any save perfectly fresh eggs.

If the white alone is to be taken, it should be beaten with a whisk until very stiff and frothy, then seasoned with salt or sugar, whichever is preferred, and eaten with a spoon.

Some who object to an egg beaten in a glass of milk, sweetened and flavored, can take the egg if the sugar is omitted and the flavoring extract replaced by brandy.—What to Eat.

Women and Money.

If you would have your women folk economical, let them handle money and learn to respect its value. There may be women who have not sufficient womanliness to honor the confidence this trust implies, but they are exceptions. If such be your daughters, it is your business to teach them otherwise. If they be your wives, it is your own fault for having married them. When a father gives his son an allowance, he should do the same for his daughter, not as a matter of material favor, for the daughter's bills might double the son's allowance, but as a matter of discipline, of financial experience and education.—Collier's.

The Story of Bishop Hatto.

Bishop Hatto was a wicked prelate who lived in 970 on the banks of the Rhine, where he owned a tower, which is at the present day pointed out to travelers as the Mouse tower. Here are stored large quantities of grain. A famine ensued, and the bishop invited the people to his granaries. As soon as they were there he set fire to the building and burned up the people. The next morning the souls of the dead appeared as an army of rats and not only destroyed everything belonging to the bishop, but finished by making a meal of his person.

Quick Wit.

Regnier, the French actor, had once to call out to a fellow actor who was expected to enter from the right wing, "Ha, ha—there you are!" For some unaccountable reason, however, the actor came on the stage on the left side, and Regnier, without being in the least disconcerted, gave his call and added, with a smile, "I saw you in the looking glass."

A Widow.

"Can any little boy or girl tell me the meaning of the word widow?" asked the teacher. "Well, Willie?" to an urchin who waved his hand vigorously.

"A widow," said Willie breathlessly, "is a man's wife that's lost her husband."

Profitable Feeding!

It is positive economy to buy the very best feed. You might feed a hen all she can eat on cheap feed and she will never lay an egg. Would you fatten a hog on hay? You might feed a hen until she was as fat as a goose, but fat hens are not good layers. It depends upon the kind of feed you give, whether they will lay enough eggs to return a profit. If you want the hens to lay, you must give them the kind of feed that makes egg production.

If you will feed one meal a day of the year round, many of the hens will lay 200 eggs during the year; but if you go on feeding in the old way, they will not lay one half that many.

Coulson's Egg Food is not expensive. You can buy it nearly as cheap as wheat—only $1.60 per sack in round lots.

The cost of feeding is from 12 to 15 cents per hundred hens, and if you mix other food with it, it would be still less.

Nearly 50 tons a month used by the poultrymen of Sonoma County.

Four weeks ago E. Classen of Penn's grove was getting four eggs a day. He bought half a ton of COULSONS EGG FOOD and gave the hens one meal a day of it, and he now gets 125 eggs a day, and each day more.

Poultrymen who will feed COULSONS EGG FOOD and will keep it up, will find it the very best kind of feed for laying hens.

Healthy hens, more eggs, more money.

Ten sacks of this feed for $16.

A Penny Wise Pound Foolish Policy.

That the street sprinkling service given the taxpayers of this town by the Board of City Trustees is anything but a satisfactory service is patent to any one with any business sense in his cranium. The work is but partially done and the service is a foolish waste of public funds every summer on account of the inadequate service. Just as well not have the streets sprinkled at all if the present apology for a service cannot be improved upon. As a matter of fact, many of our citizens have expressed themselves in favor of going back to the primitive method of each business house putting up its pro rata for a sprinkling service and taking it out of the hands of the governing body of the municipality altogether.

But this is not necessary, as the Board of City Trustees can offer no reasonable excuse for the inadequate sprinkling service which they are giving the city unless it be on the score of that talismanic word "economy"—expressive of the "penny wise pound foolish policy" pursued by that body the past year.

Never since Sonoma was incoporated twenty years ago has there been so much revenue collected in taxes and licenses and the people given so little for their money as during the past year. With this increased revenue the people have been deprived of their street lights, the Board of Health practically abolished and now that the hot, dusty summer months are here, the people are given a street sprinkling service that would make the angels weep.

Now, we assert that the taxpayers of Sonoma are certainly entitled to something for their money in the way of public benefits and a good street sprinkling service in particular. That this service has not been forthcoming is entirely the fault of the Street Committee of the City Trustees, as the following counts will show:

First—There is all kinds of money in the city treasury for this and similar public necessities.

Second—The private artesian well systems of the town can and will supply an abundance of water for street sprinkling purposes at small cost to the city.

Third—There is more than one sprinkling cart in town owned by private parties and only one of these has been pressed into service.

Fourth—The comfort of the people and the cleanliness of the town demand that all the principal streets be thoroughly wet down.

Now, with these four counts staring the City Dads in the face we cannot see why they should not avail themselves of the opportunity to improve the street sprinkling service. We would impress upon their minds that old and trite maxim: "When you do a thing do it well."

Not a Manufacturer of Medicine.

At a recent trial of the civil action of Mrs. Dr. A. D. Howe vs. A. M. Barley, Mrs. Dr. Howe, now known in the case as Mrs. Shay, was asked while on the witness stand under oath the question: "What is your occupation?" She replied: "A manufacturer of medicine." In so testifying Mrs. Howe, now Mrs. Shay, did not give her true occupation, as she is a medium and clairvoyant, with an office in Oakland. As proof of this I find the following advertisement in the Weekly Examiner of May 23, 1903.

"Mrs. Dr. A. D. Howe, the greatest known medium and clairvoyant on earth, removes evil influences. Gives advice on business. Every hidden mystery revealed. If marriages, sickness, deaths, changes, travels, divorces, separations, lawsuits, business transactions, wills, deeds, mortgages, lost or absent friends interest you; if you desire to be more successful; if you desire your domestic troubles removed, your lost love returned, your bitterest enemies converted into staunch friends—in a word whatever may be your troubles, suspicions or desires, call or write to this gifted woman and she will send you away happier, wiser and bolder than ever before. To the sick especially her assistance is priceless. Her "Revealed Medicines" registered and copyrighted, cure all diseases on earth, consumption, paralysis, rheumatism, all skin diseases, heart and nervous affections. The wonderful cures she has made are the talk of the whole Slope. Write if you cannot call, for thousands upon thousands have been made rich, happy and healthy without ever having come to see this wonderful woman. Consultation by mail is always most successful and satisfactory, and all correspondence is kept sacredly confidential. Fee $1 and upwards. Mrs. Dr. A. D. Howe, 1061 7th Ave, East Oakland. When ordering please refer to advertisement in the Examiner."

Mrs. Howe, now Mrs. Shay, also testified on the witness stand that she never met my two sons until the day of the first trial of the case in the Justice court at Sonoma, several months ago. This evidence was in keeping with that in regard to her occupation, as I can prove by witnesses outside of my family that Mrs. Dr. Howe, now Mrs. Shay, did meet my two sons at my home near Sonoma about a year ago, where she met and greeted them in the presence of two young lady witnesses.

A. M. Barley.

Sonoma, May 26, 1903.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years it was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it uncurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer $100 for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood some one has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept on hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale F Duhring.

We sell the greatest of blood purifiers. ACKER'S BLOOD ELIXIR, under a positive guarantee. It will cure all chronic and other blood poisons. If you have eruptions or sores on your body, or are pale, weak or run down, it is just what you need. We refund money if you are not satisfied. 50 cents and $1.00. R. G. Shoults, druggist.

Wakeful Children.

For a long time the two year old child of Mr. P. L. McPherson, 59 N. Tenth St., Harrisburg, Pa., would sleep but two or three hours in the early part of the night, which made it very hard for her parents. Her mother concluded that the child had stomach trouble, and gave her half of one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which quieted her stomach and she slept the whole night through. Two boxes of these Tablets have effected a permanent cure and she is now well and strong. For sale by F. Duhring.

To Cure a Cold In One Day.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Their financial responsibility is well known to every newspaper publisher and druggist in the United States, with most of whom they have done business for over a third of a century. From this fact it will readily be seen how utterly foolish it would be for them to make the above unprecedented and remarkable offer if they were not basing their offer on curative means having an unparalleled record. No other medicine than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription could possibly "win out" as the saying goes, on such a proposition. But they know whereof they speak. They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments. This wonderful remedy, therefore, stands absolutely alone as the only one possessed of such unrivaled curative properties as fully warrant its makers in publishing the remarkable offer above made in the utmost good faith.

$3,000 FORFEIT will also be paid in lawful money of the United States, by the officers of the World's Dispensary Medical Association, if they cannot show the original signature of each individual volunteering the testimonials below, and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness and the superiority of these medicines.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Proprietors, BUFFALO, N. Y.

Mrs. Maggie McFarland, of Taswell, Ind., writes: "Two years ago my health began to fail and I was hardly able to walk around. I broke down, then trouble of a special nature set in and I suffered severely from falling of womb. Had heart trouble till I could not sit up; was confined to bed all the time. After I had been in bed two weeks undertook to get up but found I could not. My husband called the doctor, but his medicine only made me weaker and worse; I was having a chill every day, and it seemed as though I would die. We called another doctor who said he could cure me in three weeks, and when he found he could not do so he said I had "hysterics," and urged me to use a supporter, which only made me worse. I was almost crazy and prayed to die and get out of my suffering. Was so poor I was only a skeleton, when one day I chanced to pick up a little Memorandum Book and reading of Dr. Pierce's medicines resolved to write him concerning my case. He wrote me a kind letter. I purchased his medicine and began taking it, soon began to feel better; the weak quivering in my bowels stopped and the pain in my side became less. Continued the treatment until I had taken about six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and one box of Dr. Pierce's Suppositories. I am now doing the work for a family of eight. Can walk to the store and carry my baby three miles. Can sleep well, and life is worth living. I cannot praise Dr. Pierce's medicines too highly. Hope others also will take Dr. Pierce's medicines and be cured, and that this statement may be the means of many suffering ones applying to you for relief.

"I know of a man in our vicinity whose neighbors and friends thought he would die, but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured him. Know also of others who have been benefited by the use of your medicines."

Mrs. Mamie Patterson, of 42 Hedden Place, Elizabeth, N. J., says: "About one year ago I wrote to Dr. Pierce and he advised me what to do. It is hard for me to say just what my trouble was. Was nervous; had sick headaches, backache, pain in small of back, had no appetite, pain in my left side. I was a complete wreck. I had tried many doctors and did not get well, so had given up the thought of ever getting better. I have taken eight bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' and to-day feel like a new woman. Have advised several of my friends to use Dr. Pierce's medicines and they have done so and received much benefit. I am thankful to you for your advice, and also for what your wonderful medicines have done for me. May the blessing of God ever rest upon you. I gladly send you this testimonial."

THAT FIRE ALARM.

Caused by a Blaze in an Acetylene Gas Light Tank House.

The alarm of fire last Saturday afternoon was caused by a blaze in the tank house of Dr. G. D. Rich's acetylene gas lighting plant, located in the rear of his dwelling on Napa street and adjoining the Granice residence. The firemen promptly responded to the call of the fire bell and were early on the ground to combat the flames, which, however, were quenched with a few buckets of water before much damage was done. According to the Scientific American, a standard authority in such matters, these acetylene lighting plants are extremely hazardous to both life and property. That paper has recently published a number of illustrated articles describing the loss of life and destruction of property from explosions of private acetylene gas plants in Massachusetts and other States where they are in use for lighting stores and dwellings.

LAND MARKS FUND ENTERTAINMENT.

To be Given by a Worthy Society for a Worthy Cause.

The forthcoming entertainment and dance, to be held under the auspices of the Young Men's Institute of Sonoma, at Union Hall, on the evening of the 10th inst., ought to be patronized by every one in the valley.

Aside from the splendid program which will be presented and which is worth in itself more than the price of admission there will be a social dance after the performance. In addition to this the net proceeds will be devoted toward the purchase of the Old Mission buildings in Sonoma, the oldest and most historical buildings of all those that it is proposed to restore and preserve with the Land Marks Fund, which is being liberally contributed to by individuals and societies all over the State. As it is proposed to spend much of the fund in Sonoma in purchasing its ancient buildings and beautifying the grounds surrounding them every resident in the Sonoma Valley ought to take a pride in helping in every way possible to increase the fund. As the effort of the Young Men's Institute next Wednesday evening to swell the fund will be the first move in that direction in Sonoma, let the benefit be a rousing one.

Among the features of the entertainment will be a laughable farce entitled "The Romance of Three Bachelors," which will be presented by members of Borromean Council, No. 129, Y. M. I. of San Francisco.

The floor committee having charge of the dance will be Mr. Wm. J. Kearney and Mr. Emmet Mullen.

Opening of a New Summer Resort.

On Saturday evening last the new summer resort "Glen View," Glen Ellen, was opened under happy auspices. A very large and jolly party from San Francisco, Napa and the Sonoma Valley attended and enjoyed an evening of unalloyed pleasure. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dowdall had arranged things admirably in their beautifully situated cottage and the expressions on all sides testified to the pleasure felt by the guests.

Dancing and games were indulged in and an elegant supper partaken of. The cottage is situated on a hill commanding a view of the whole Sonoma Valley and is surrounded by a large veranda.

The following were the guests: From San Francisco—Misses Mollie Riley, Nellie McMann, M. Leonard, Gertrude Norton, M. Norton. Messrs. Wm. Norton, Ray Chambers, H. Cordelle, Joe Norton, Hugh T. McCann, Harry G. Dowdall, Dr. J. C. Snyder, H. T. Ramie, H. O. Gruber, Frank Hill, Jas. F. Coghlan, Mark F. Sorich, Dr. R. J. Dowdall, Dr. and Mrs Chas. McCarthy, Stanislaus A. Riley, Robert Lee, Miss Amy Doney, Harry Curry, Miss Bessie Parker, Mr. Fred Keser, Horace Wilbert, Bert O'Sullivan, Ernest Williams, Miss Bessie Wilbert, Ida O'Connor. From Sonoma—Mr. Leo E. Dowdall. From Napa—Mr. Phil Kane, Thomas Lydon and Geo Kane. From Eureka—Mr. T. T. Dowdall. From Larkspur—Mr. and Mrs. N. Hoey. From Eldridge—Mr. F. Hartman. From Glen Ellen—Mr. and Mrs. R. E. John Baines visited Sonoma Thursday.

Jos. T. Grace was down from Santa Rosa Wednesday.

Geo. Burns of Agua Rica visited friends here Wednesday.

Charles Lane, one of Sonoma's young bloods, was in town Thursday.

Mrs. Chas. T. Wilkinson visited Berkeley friends the fore part of the week.

John Carlson, our local barber, has recovered fram his late spell of sickness.

Hugh Chance, one of our rising young men, has developed into a fine baritone singer.

Wm. and James Baines were up from the metropolis Sunday visiting relatives here.

Chris Leuteret and his friend L. Post were visiting in this burg several days this week.

John Serres, mine host of the Bellevue, made a business trip to the metropolis Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoen and Mrs. J. M. Oliver are visiting on the L. L. Lewis ranch west of town.

E. P. Lounibos of the Exchange Saloon received a carload of fine wet goods the fore part of the week

Miss Emma Redmond and Miss Annie Galley have been guests on the Joe Dowdall ranch the past week.

Joe Murphy and Mike Murphy cut quite a dash the other day as they drove through town in a swell rubber-tired rig.

Eugene Dutil, formerly of this place but now residing in San Francisco, visited at his old home here Saturday and Sunday.

M. O. Swickhard, foreman of the L. L. Lewis ranch, made a business trip to Santa Rosa Tuesday evening, returning the following day.

W. M. Mullen, a draughtsman in the employ of the Union Iron Works, San Francisco, spent Decoration Day with his relatives here.

A large crowd from this place will attend the ball game in Sonoma Sunday. El Verano will send in an umpire well-known to the crack ball players of San Francisco.

Emmet Mullen has purchased another lot. His latest purchase adjoins his store. Wonder if he, too, is going to join the small army of El Verano's saloon builders?

A. C. Chance, the county road sprinkler in this town, is the right man in the right place. As he passes along Riverside avenue with his sprinkling cart the smiling summer girls exclaims: "There is no dust on that man."

Gus Miller, boss polisher in the Union Iron Works, San Francisco, registered at the Bellevue Hotel Saturday and Sunday. This was his first visit to our town and he was so pleased with our climate and scenery that he will return shortly and remain two weeks.

A grafter struck this town the other day. He is a sprinter and hails from Lake county. He is dead on to his job—gets out of an evening, shows what he can do in the way of fast running and then passes the hat around. He has been there before and is as slick as grease.

"Happy Hooligan" has flew the coop and gone "way back to the pines." His scalp was in demand here, a standing reward of $5 having been offered for his top-knot. "Happy" thought it healthy to avoid trouble and so he has left us. Poor "Happy." El Verano weeps.

The incorrigible small boy of this town should be stopped from jumping on and off the moving trains of the Southern Pacific compauy as they arrive in and depart from this place. It was only a few days ago that a young fellow had both legs taken off by the car wheels of a train at Port Costa while indulging in the dangerous practice. This ought to act as a warning to the young rascals of this burg who can be seen almost daily boarding moving trains.

GLEN ELLEN

By Chappie.

Mrs. J. W. Reed is visiting friends in San Francisco.

A. C. Woods transacted business in Santa Rosa last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McCarty of San Francisco spent Sunday in this burg.

Ben Thierkoff is quite ill at his home. He is under the care of Dr. Crepin.

J. W. Gender of San Francisco is visiting his brother, Ned Gender, at the Cottage Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilhoolie of San Francisco have pitched their tent in Glen Ellen Park.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. O'Meare of San Francisco with their little son, visited this place Sunday.

Winthrop Rollins has again returned to this burg and taken up his abode at the McCartney ranch.

One of the pettiest belles of our town, dainty, sprightly Pearl Ogan, was married last week to Chester Spears of Santa Rosa. They have the good wishes of all.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoag have opened an ice cream parlor. It is a very neat and attractive place centrally located and is well patronized as it deserves to be.

Mr. H. Ramie of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company is visiting this town with headquarters at the Riverside Hotel. Mr. Ramie has recently returned from South America, where he has resided several years. He is much delighted with our scenery and climate and says they surpasss anything he has seen in foreign lands.

Miss Meinsing of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Stadtlander and family of New York, Dr. Snyder of Seattle, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harris, Black Buttes, Or.; and M. G. Pouch, San Francisco, who is connected with the Wells, Fargo express company, are guests at the Riverside Hotel.

Mr. Wm. Harris and wife of Black Buttes, Oregon, are now rusticating in Glen Ellen. Mr. Harris is the superintendent of the sole quicksilver mine in Oregon, which is located 150 miles from Portland. He has traveled very extensively in search of health but has found no place so desirable in every way as our charming, health-restoring climate. This is particularly flattering coming from one who has visited all the watering places and resorts of our favored State.

Last Saturday this little town of Glen Ellen held more people than it ever has since its existence. The Holy Cross Picnic, under the care of Father McGinty, put in a delightful day in the park. Fully three thousand people were on the the grounds, and it was a most orderly, quiet throng. Mother Hubbard's dog would have fared badly had he depended on the cupboards of the various hotels, restaurants and boarding houses after the departure of the jolly picnicers.

The Dunbar Improvement Club had quite a spirited meeting at the session last Saturday. The advisability of taking some means to put a stop to the pilfering going on in this vicinity was freely and fully discussed. If the law is inadequate to reach this class of offenders the people will have to defend their own rights and adopt some measure for self-protection from the lawless element. Mr. W. L. Ashe introduced a resolution to appoint a committee to interview the railroad companies and see what can be done to prevent fires from being started by sparks from passing locomotives from which we suffer so terribly every year.

FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE JAILED.

Returns to Scene of Former Crime and is Apprehended.

On Wednesday night last Constable Boswell of Santa Rosa arrested John Guidotti in Glen Ellen, and took him to Santa Rosa and lodged him in jail. Guidotti is an alleged fugitive from justice.

On October 18, 1897, a complaint was sworn out in Judge Brown's court, Santa Rosa, charging Guidotti with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill another man named Frank Pedronelli, who resides at Glen Ellen at the present time. It is alleged that Guidotti severely stabbed Pedronelli and for a time it was a matter of doubt if his victim would recover.

A few days ago it was learned that Guidotti had been seen at Glen Ellen by the man he stabbed years ago and by others. Constable Boswell went to Glen Ellen then, but the man he wanted had been apprised that he was in danger of being captured and got away. Wednesday afternoon the Constable arrested Guidotti in the hills four or five miles from Glen Ellen and brought him here to answer to the charge. During his absence from this county it is stated that he has been in Mexico, until recently.

ONWARD TO EUREKA.

Extension of the California Northwestern from Willits Will Now Commence.

A long railway train consisting of twenty-two flat and box cars laden with a miscellaneous grading and construction outfit, passed over the main line of the California Northwestern Monday, en route to Willits, the present terminus of the road. The flat cars were loaded with wagons, scrapers, plows, etc., and the box cars contained a large number of horses and mules.

This railway construction outfit will be put into immediate use and before another week a small army of graders will be at work extending the line from Willits to Eureka Humboldt county. This activity on the part of President Foster and his associates is no doubt caused by the threatened invasion of his passenger and freight territory by the Santa Fe people, although it has always been the intention of the California Northwestern to tap the rich redwood timber country of Humboldt.

This extension, the coming of the Santa Fe and the activity of the North Shore people portends a bright future for Marin, Sonoma, Mendocino and Humboldt counties which have been handicapped in keeping up with the growth of less favored sections of the State in the way of natural advantages owing to their being off the map of the main railway lines of the Pacific coast. The present railway activity means at least one if not two or three transcontinental lines passing through those counties in the near future.

Noted Eye Specialist in Town.

Dr. Barnard, the well known eye specialist of San Francisco, was in town Monday and Tuesday. During his brief sojourn here he was kept quite busy at his offices in the Union Hotel treating the eyes of many of our prominent people. Dr. Barnard comes to Sonoma highly recommended as a reliable specialist in the treatment of the eyes. The doctor left for San Francisco Tuesday afternoon but will return next Monday and will give free examinations during the week. For further reference inquire at the Sonoma Valley Bank. *

SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE

H. H. GRANICE, Proprietor.

SONOMA, SATURDAY, JUNE 6, 1903.

BACK FROM THE FIRE.

The Homeward Trip as Viewed From the Horse's Standpoint.

And after it was all over—when the red and yellow flames had ceased to dance in the empty window spaces, when only the white steam smoke rolled up through the yawning roof holes—the ladders were reshipped, you left the purring engines to drown out the last hidden spark, and you went prancing back to your house, where the lonesome desk man waited patiently for your return.

No loping rush was the homeward trip. The need for haste had passed. Now came the parade. You might toss your head, arch your neck and use all your fancy steps. The driver didn't care. In fact, he rather liked to have you show off a bit. The men on the truck, smutty of face and hands, joked across the ladders. The strain was over. It was a time of relaxing, for behind was duty well done.

Then came the nice accuracy of swinging a sixty foot truck in a fifty foot street and of backing through a fourteen foot door wheels which spanned thirteen feet from hub rim to hub rim.

After unhooking there were the rubbing and the extra feeding of oats that always follow a long run. How good it was to be bedded down after this lung stretching, leg limbering work!—Sewell Ford in "Horses Nine."

A Queer Monument.

Standing in Mount Hope cemetery at Logansport, Ind., is one of the queerest monuments ever erected to the memory of any individual. It is over the grave of William H. Reighter. The statue part of the monument represents Mr. Reighter as he was attired when stricken with heart disease. Mr. Reighter was a ditch contractor and prominent in his locality. It was on a rainy day that death came, and he was well prepared for the weather. He was wearing a broad brimmed hat, a mackintosh over his suit of clothes and his trousers legs were in his rubber boots. The members of the family, wishing to remember him as he looked when last he bade them goodby, employed a man about the same size and build as Mr. Reighter to have his photograph taken in the clothes last worn by the deceased, and when he had carried out the idea they replaced the head on the photograph with the head of a likeness of Mr. Reighter. This picture was sent to a sculptor in Italy, with the request that a life sized statue be made from it in Italian marble. The statue is true to life. It cost $5,000.

Where Drums Came From.

Drums are probably an eastern idea introduced by the Crusaders into Europe. They are frequently mentioned in the accounts of the first crusade. When Edward III. of England and his queen made their triumphal entry into Calais in 1347, "tambours" or drums were among the instruments which were played in their honor. Another of these was called a "nacaire" or kettledrum, taken, together with its name, from the Arabs. The poet Chaucer also mentions this instrument in his description of the tournament in "The Knight's Tale."

The king generally kept a troop of these bandsmen or minstrels in his employ, and we read that Edward II. on one occasion gave a sum of 60 shillings to Roger, the trumpeter; Janino, the makerer, and others for their performances. Another minstrel was called the "cheveretter," or player on the bagpipe.

The Suicide of Hannibal.

Defeated at Zama, Hannibal fled to the east to avoid falling into the hands of the Romans and found temporary security in the dominions of Mithridates. He incited this monarch to engage in a Roman war, and, his advice as to its conduct being rejected, the war proved unsuccessful, and Mithridates was required as one of the conditions of peace to deliver up Hannibal to his enemies, the Romans. The unfortunate Carthaginian heard of his approaching fate, swallowed the poison which for years he had carried about his person and expired just as the envoys arrived to take him in charge.

The Way She Worked It.

"Of course you can't take a hint," she said, looking at him thoughtfully. He couldn't, and she knew it, and that's why she said it. It wouldn't have been necessary otherwise.

"Of course," he replied. "Have you been hinting at anything?"

"Oh, dear, no," she answered, with suspicious haste. "I was just thinking, you know."

"Thinking of what?"

"Why, suppose—you suppose, you know—that I was a hint."

After pondering the matter deeply for several minutes he decided to take her.—New York Times.

His Idea of Work.

Applicant—Please, ma'am, can you help a poor man who is out of work?

Woman—I think I can find something for you to do.

Applicant (gratefully)—Thanks, if you could give me some washing to do, I'll take it home to my wife.—Boston Globe.

The Wrong Illustration.

"Now, boys, what is the best and most appropriate time to thank the Lord?"

No answer.

"What does your father do when you sit down to meals?"

"Cusses the cook."—Town and Country.

Her Scheme.

"She made sure of getting a seat on the car."

"Indeed!"

"Yes; she married the conductor."—Detroit Free Press.
